

Coronavirus case reported at City National 2Cal (March 26, 2020)

- Property Management at City National 2Cal has informed the Consulate General of Japan in Los Angeles that an employee of one of the tenants in the building has been diagnosed with the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) and may have been contagious while on property. The individual, who worked on a different floor from the Consulate General, was last in the building/on property on Saturday, March 14th.
- The building's Property Management has implemented measures including a disinfectant wipe down and deep clean of all common areas that the employee may have passed through while at the building.
- To limit the risk of spreading COVID-19 infection, we respectfully ask all visitors with consular-related matters that are NOT urgent in nature to delay their visit to the Consulate General until a later time. In addition, due to changes in our window hours, there may be long wait times so we recommend that all visitors with non-urgent matters to postpone their visit.
- If you are feeling unwell, please do not visit the Consulate General at this time. Please wait until you are healthy and well to visit our office.
- Due to the ever-changing situation regarding COVID-19, our hours and services are subject to change. Please check the Consulate General website for updated information, and please be understanding of unforeseen circumstances. We kindly ask for your cooperation and understanding.
