Prime Minister Kishida Attends Tokyo Nutrition for Growth Summit 2021

On Dec. 7, the the High Level Sessions of the Tokyo Nutrition for Growth (N4G) Summit 2021, hosted by the government of Japan, was held. Prime Minister Kishida said that Japan will provide nutrition-related assistance to the world, which will amount to over 300 billion Japanese yen, equivalent to more than around 2.8 billion U.S. dollars, for the next three years. The Tokyo N4G Summit 2021 was organized to direct ways for the international community to improve nutrition as well as to encourage a wide range of stakeholders to take concrete actions through their announcements of policy and financial commitments, and to lead global measures for nutritional improvement.

Foreign Minister Attends G7 Meeting in the UK

Foreign Minister HAYASHI Yoshimasa attended the Meeting of the Group of 7 Foreign and Development Ministers, held Dec. 10-13 in the UK. On the sidelines of the meeting, he met individually with US Secretary of State Antony Blinken and well as counterparts from other G7 nations. Hayashi and Blinken discussed regional affairs, including China and North Korea. In light of the increasingly severe regional security environment, the two ministers concurred that it is essential to strengthen the deterrence and response capabilities of the Japan-U.S. Alliance, and that Japan and the U.S. will continue to work closely together to that end.

Building a Hydrogen Society in the Pacific West!

Consul General Muto offered opening remarks at an ambitious online seminar organized by NEDO and JETRO, which also featured remarks by Eleni Kounalakis, Lieutenant Governor, State of California; Kate Brown, Governor, State of Oregon; Jay Inslee, Governor, State of Washington; and Bruce Ralston, Minister of Energy, Mines and Low Carbon Innovation, Province of British Columbia. The two-day webinar covered everything from policy measures to case study examples by Japanese companies which are supporting the growth of the hydrogen energy subsector in the Western Pacific region of North America. With a comprehensive series of presentations by policy leaders and many private companies from Japan, the webinar also posited the need for more collaboration between the North American western states and provinces, and global partners like Japan, to accelerate decarbonization with hydrogen energy.
